Erie 1 BOCES FUSION Fashion Show to showcase Williamsville student's works

West Seneca (March 14, 2024) – The work of a Williamsville Central School District student will be presented to the community along with those from fellow student designers in the Erie 1 BOCES Fashion Design Technology program during the FUSION '24 Fashion Show: Aurora.

Tatum Hunt said her favorite part of her fashion studies was in designing clothing pieces.

“I have always loved the way you are fully able to create whatever you want without any limits,” Tatum said. “I always thought it would be really cool to see designs of my own on the runway.”

The FUSION Fashion Show, which has been running since 2009, will take place on Wednesday, March 27 and will showcase the work of 18 high school fashion students from across Western New York who attend the Harkness Career & Technical Education Center. The theme for this year's show, Aurora, was developed by students based on how the colors in the sky reflected the ideas of personal change and the feeling of community.

Tatum said her pieces for the show are inspired by the colors in the sky during the golden hour at sunset, at sunrise and at twilight.

After high school, Tatum said she planned to attend Buffalo State University to study fashion design, with hopes of opening a store featuring her designs.

The annual show brings together talents from multiple Erie 1 BOCES programs, who support each other to ensure the success of the show. That includes Barbering and Cosmetology program students who prepare participating models for the show, along with Criminal Justice students that assist with security for the evening. The Engineering and Robotics program also assisted student designers in the creation of gears and 3-D printing for their designs.

The two-year Fashion Design Technology program at Erie 1 BOCES' Harkness Career & Technical Educational Center teaches students how to dress, style and create trends based on design elements and the fashion cycle. Students in the program also develop business plans as a part of their studies, setting them up for future success. The students' work included creating the posters and tickets for the show.

This year's show will take place at 7 p.m. on March 27 at The Show at Shea's Seneca, 2188 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N.Y. Doors will open at 6 p.m., and will close at 6:50 p.m. prior to the start of the show. Tickets are $5, and can be reserved by emailing instructor Darlene Borchert at dborchert@e1b.org. Proceeds from the show will benefit Ten Lives Club as well as the Buffalo Underdogs Rescue.
